Ponce Inlet Lighthouse

ADVERTORIAL

Soaring 175 feet above the “World’s Most Famous Beach” is the Ponce de Leon Inlet Light Station, which is the tallest lighthouse in Florida and one of the tallest masonry lighthouses in the country. Climb 203 steps up the magnificent spiraling staircase to the top and enjoy breathtaking views.

On the grounds, you’ll discover a museum exhibiting the fascinating history of the U.S. Lighthouse Service, the local region and the nation’s rich maritime heritage. Tour the Light Station’s historic buildings and stroll through the site’s natural coastal hammock. Be sure to visit the world-famous Ayers Davies Lens exhibit and examine one of the largest collections of historic Fresnel lenses, lighthouse optics and minor aids to navigation.

Allow time for browsing the museum’s unique nautical and lighthouse-themed gift shop for the perfect souvenir, ranging from children’s books and postcards to home wares and other memorabilia. Visited by more than 140,000 people each year, the Ponce de Leon Inlet Light Station was designated a National Historic Landmark in 1998. Dining Scene

Flavors to Savor

Daytona's burgeoning restaurant scene is host to one-of-a-kind local eateries, a plethora of microbreweries and wine bars and some of the freshest seafood on the Atlantic coast.

Eat Local

The city and surrounding areas are known for fresh seafood, local produce and farm-to-table fare. Whether you're craving grass-fed filet mignon, seafood lasagna, Asian fusion, handcrafted hops or just a juicy cheeseburger, you'll find it at one of Daytona Beach's many local, independent restaurants.

Drink Up

Perfectly pair your meal with tasty custom pints and carafes of local beer and wine. Here you'll find eight cozy microbreweries owned and operated by passionate hopheads. An array of sophisticated and sultry wine bars offer exquisite selections along with artisan cheese and specialty salads served in armchairs or on outdoor patios.

Vegan/Vegetarian

Daytona is home to several eateries, cafes, bistros and diners that feature meat-free menus. Choices range from juice bars with vegan-only options to gluten-free gastropubs with homemade vegan burgers. For ethnic cuisine, there are traditional Indian restaurants, a natural foods store and tons of Italian kitchens with vegetarian pasta, pizza and calzones.

Seafood

From mahi mahi and swordfish to shrimp and snapper, finding a restaurant in the Daytona Beach area that serves locally caught seafood is a cinch. You don't want to miss the fresh sea scallops or the catch-of-the-day served on dockside patios overlooking a marina or beachside with the sound of waves crashing and the wind in your hair. Several seafood shops serve meals in-house so you can eat and bring something fresh home for the next night's dinner.

Fine Dining

Head to Ormond Beach or downtown Daytona Beach for the day or just for dinner to explore all the popular fine dining establishments the areas have to offer. Restaurants set in historic houses and chic modern environments invite diners to sample delectable cuisines and embark on culinary adventures featuring tastes from along the coast to around the world.

Brickyard Lounge and Grill

ADVERTORIAL

Since 1993, the Brickyard Lounge and Grill has become a dining destination—just ask locals and visitors, alike. Bikers, beach goers and even famous racecar drivers love the food and the atmosphere.

The half-pound sirloin patty comes with customized salad toppings and decadent add-ons, including four choices of cheese, grilled onion and mushrooms, jalapenos and bacon. Each burger comes with a mound of crispy fries. There's a lot more on the menu, too: Southern-style, hickory-smoked pork, wings, grilled Reuben sandwiches, four types of grilled Black Angus steaks and peel 'n' eat jumbo Gulf shrimp. Specialty salads, appetizer baskets and soup served at lunch Monday through Friday round out the menu. The full-service bar offers beer, cocktails, wine and Coca-Cola products. Hog Heaven BBQ

Bringing the Country to the Beach

Located on the corner of Atlantic Avenue by the Ocean Center and across from the Daytona Hilton, Hog Heaven BBQ has been a local favorite for over 30 years. Because we are locally owned and operated, we cook our BBQ fresh every day. If you've been on the beach here, you've probably enjoyed the aroma of our signature smoked brisket, pulled pork and chicken, cooking "low and slow" by the same pitmaster since 1987. Over the years, the area around us has changed a lot, but we've kept our BBQ heavenly and rooted in southern hospitality and charm. Come inside and cool off, or take a seat on our patio and enjoy the sights and sounds of Daytona's beachfront area. Our aim is to "Put Some South in Your Mouth."
